

1. I think the most important decisions in life are about your education and your career, because they affect your whole future. Also, choosing who you want to live with or where to move are very big decisions. These choices change your lifestyle and your happiness for a long time.

2. When I have to make a big decision, I usually take a lot of time to think about it. I almost always ask for advice from my parents or my close friends because I trust them. Sometimes I also write a list of "pros and cons" to help me see which choice is better for me.

3. I think it is quite hard for most people to change their mind after a wrong decision. Sometimes people feel embarrassed to admit they made a mistake, or they have already spent a lot of money and time on that choice. It takes a lot of courage to stop and start again in a different direction.
